

THANKS FOR JOINING DENGUE TRACK

The challenge of mapping dengue fever is immense but digital technology can help. Dengue Track is an initiative from Break Dengue that is using big data to build the ultimate dengue tracking system.

This online interactive tool centralizes information about dengue outbreaks from a range of sources, adds data from social media channels, and alerts people when they may be at risk of dengue.

You can install this tool on your website and help us to collecting data, it's really easy, and together we can paint a true picture of dengue fever and predict future outbreaks.
